

Thodoris Karakostas | Product Partnerships Manager, Google Assistant

Thodoris works as a Product Partnerships Manager for Google Assistant and mainly engages with expanding "Duplex on the Web" globally across use cases and partners. In the past, he has managed Google's digital agency partners in Greece, Bulgaria, Cyprus and Malta. Prior to Google, he was working at Rocket Internet, where he was in charge of operations at a start-up operating in 10 countries across Asia and Africa. He holds a Masters in Electrical & Computer Engineering from National Technical University of Athens and a Masters in Strategy and International Management from the University of St.Gallen.